ACE Power Band Baseball Study

Dear Athlete,

On January 10 & 11th, two renowned physicians will oversee a 4-week study on the effectiveness of the ACE Power Band product. Dr. Glenn Fleisig of the American Sports Medicine Institute (ASMI) and Dr. Rafael Escamilla, a Physical Therapy Professor at Sacramento State University, will lead the study. 30 subjects will take part in the study. 15 of the 30 subjects will form the test group, while the other 15 will comprise the control group.

The 4-week clinic is scheduled to take place in the Woodland/Davis area, starting with the initial testing on January 10th & 11th. On February 8th & 9th, the study will conclude, and all 30 subjects will be re-tested to complete the program.

This is a great opportunity to find out about your own arm strength. The program will teach you how you can dramatically increase strength and velocity while building a base to prevent injury. For participation requirements please visit <http://www.acepowerband.com/study.html>.
